

How would you go on if you lost everything? Kristen and Leslie both lost their homes in separate Colorado wildfires and turned to their writing after the fire. Meeting by chance, they each envisioned giving other women the opportunity to share their fire stories with the world. Phoenix Rising: Stories of Remarkable Women Walking Through Fire is a collection of twenty women's writings. Gain insight into the terror they felt as flames engulfed their communities, the dark desperation that followed, and how they worked to recreate a life from the ashes. Their tales of fear and bravery, deep compassion and heart wrenching grief, offer insight into the strength of human resilience.
